

Tactical voting bid to oust Oliver Letwin is rejected

WEST Dorset parliamentary candidates for the Green and Labour parties have rebuffed an invitation from the Liberal Democrats to form a progressive alliance to oust long-standing MP Sir Oliver Letwin.

Lib Dem candidate Andy Canning wrote to both Green candidate Kelvin Clayton and Lee Rhodes of the Labour Party asking them to withdraw from the election so their supporters could back him to produce a progressive win over Sir Oliver (pictured right).

Mr Canning said that he had been contacted by many members of the three parties, asking for a progressive alliance in West Dorset to defeat the Conservatives, and asked the two candidates if they would consider withdrawing from the general election, to be held on June 8th.

He commented: "West Dorset has existed as a constituency since 1885. Over these years there have been 35 elections for MP. The Conservatives have won every single one of them.

"I want to break this pattern. Twice before the Liberal Democrats came very close to winning in 2001 and 2005. The county council election results last week clearly illustrate that it is close again between the Lib Dems and Conservatives.

"I am calling for a progressive alliance in West Dorset to stop the Conservatives winning yet again.

"I want progressive voters who want to see an end to austerity and oppose a hard Brexit deal to unite behind one candidate.

"Ideally, that means the Labour and Green candidates standing down as they are a long way behind votes. If this were to happen, it would go a long way to defeating the Conservatives.

"But, if they are unwilling, I am calling on all progressive voters to vote tactically on June 8th and vote for me as the only candidate who can beat the Conservatives."

Green candidate Mr Clayton said that Mr Canning was "being a bit disingenuous in his approach" and refused to stand down.

He said: "I contacted the chairs of both Labour and the Lib Dems – Andy himself – the moment the election was called with a suggestion regarding the progressive alliance – an open primary between all three parties to select one candidate. Labour discussed the idea and said no.

"Andy at first responded to say that they would consider my proposal then, at the very last minute with practically no time left to discuss or negotiate, he proposed that both Lee and I simply stand down. That is not an alliance, progressive or otherwise.

"An alliance requires some agreement, some give and take, some co-operation, not an ultimatum that effectively says 'do as I ask or I will make you look bad'.

"I am not standing down. The only value in standing down would be to ensure that we had a good chance of having some form of proportional representation for the next general election. We need a strong Green voice in parliament and this requires proportional representation. What will standing down achieve?

"Even if Andy were elected the Lib Dems stand no chance of having enough MPs to form a government, and they have ruled out forming any coalition. So how will proportional representation be achieved?

"At least by standing, Green supporters have opportunity to vote Green and demonstrate their support, and we have the opportunity of receiving enough votes to qualify for an equal number of party election broadcasts as the other three parties."

The West Dorset Labour Party said that by proposing "this kind of back room deal", the Lib Dems were "taking voters and their views for granted".

A Labour spokesperson said: "As Jeremy Corbyn, leader of the Labour Party, said, 'We are contesting every seat, fielding a full state of Labour candidates, because we are in it to win it. We won't be doing deals with anyone'.

"When people go to vote at a general election they are electing a government and we believe that every Labour supporter should be given the opportunity to vote Labour where ever they live.

"There is only one alternative government and that is Labour. The only way to get the change we need, to build a fair economy and strong public service is to vote Labour.

"Labour is campaigning to win every seat. The only deal we will do is with the electorate, to be a government for the many, not the few."

A spokesperson for the Re-Elect Oliver Letwin Campaign as West Dorset's MP [West Dorset Conservative Association], said: "This is a matter for the correspondents involved and we have no comment beyond that."

Paralympic star Paul Blake collects his MBE from Buckingham Palace

RIO Paralympic champion Paul Blake described his visit to Buckingham Palace last Friday to receive his MBE as an "incredible experience".

The 27-year-old from Charlton Down won gold and silver in Brazil last year to go alongside the silver and bronze he won in London four years earlier over the 400m and 800m distances.

Paul attended the ceremony with his mother Kate and twin brother Alex where he was presented with his medal by Prince William for "services to athletics".

Describing his experience he said: "Buckingham Palace is an amazing place and the ballroom was stunning. Prince William is a really nice guy and we had a good conversation."

Arriving in his brother's Mini, Paul was both amused and impressed by the way they were escorted past the tourists and the car thoroughly examined.

The following day he flew to Barcelona to compete in an invitational 400m race as preparation for the World Para Athletics Championships to be held at London's Olympic Stadium in July.

Running in a mixed field, the T38 category Blake finished second to a T13 (partial vision) athlete in a time of 55.39secs.

He said: "Considering I have had little competition this season so far, it wasn't a bad time. I started too slowly over the first 100m, but then picked it up and finished strongly.

"I think if I had started well I would have been nearer the 55 second mark."

Blake's next competition is at Loughborough later this month where he will be running a 100m to sharpen his speed, before competing in the Exeter Open Meeting over the Whitsun weekend.

Food festival returns this weekend

THE National Trust's annual Spring Tide Food Festival is back this weekend for its eighth year at Hive Beach in Burton Bradstock.

Celebrating place, produce and people, the festival showcases a wealth of culinary delights and products from local artisans and crafts people.

There will be an array of stall holders offering a range of produce, from speciality meats and artisan cheeses to handmade delicacies and cakes, as well as street food, breads, fish and locally-produced cider, wine and aperitifs.

Visitors will also discover local crafts and music and the team at Bridport Museum are providing a 'pop-up' experience while the building is closed.

Sarah Kennedy, outdoor experience ranger, and Caz Richards, volunteer project manager for the festival, said: "We will be tempting visitors to experience a range of local seasonal foods, from scrumptious savouries to the indulgent naughty but nice sweet treats."

Spring Tide is a festival for all the family with a backdrop of spectacular views along the Jurassic Coast.

Katharine Wright, Dorset Food and Drink co-ordinator, said: "It is so good to see this festival going from strength to strength and continuing to attract the top quality local food and drink producers."

Election candidates confirmed

NOMINATIONS for next month's general election closed last Thursday, with candidates across the area now confirmed.

In the West Dorset constituency (which includes Bridport, Lyme Regis, Beaminster and Dorchester) incumbent Sir Oliver Letwin (Con) will face district and county Andy Canning (Lib Dem), Kelvin Clayton (Green) and Lee Rhodes (Labour).

Sir Oliver has a majority of more than 50 per cent and polled 16,000 votes more than his nearest rival – Liberal Democrat Ros Kayes – in 2015.

In Weymouth and Portland's South Dorset constituency MP Richard Drax (Con) will be challenged by Tashi Warr (Labour), Howard Legg (Lib Dem) and Jon Orrell (Green).

Conservative Mr Drax took the South Dorset seat from Labour in 2010, only to increase his share of the vote two years ago.

After their poor showing in last month's county council elections across the county, UKIP are not fielding as many candidates in the general election as they did in 2015, with no one standing for the party in either West

Dorset or South Dorset.

The election takes place on June 8th.

Petrol station robbery – arrest made

A 23-YEAR-old Beaminster man has been arrested in connection with a reported theft from a Bridport petrol station.

Just before 11pm on Wednesday, May 3rd, officers were called to reports of a till snatch at the Esso garage in East Road. A till tray, a quantity of cash and a black A4 folder was stolen.

No one was physically injured in the incident.

The man was arrested on suspicion of burglary and has been released under investigation.

Will the last of Lyme's 'untouched green space' become second sculpture trail?

A TOWN councillor has expressed concern that the "last vestige of untouched green space" in Lyme Regis could become a second sculpture trail.

Councillor Brian Larcombe questioned whether sculptures would be installed along the trail from the Town Mill in Lyme Regis to Uplyme Village Hall, which recently received public funding.

The Lyme Regis Trail Link was one of several projects to receive a share of £5.6million. The money was granted to the Dorset Coastal Community Team, led by the Dorset Coast Forum, to deliver the 'Dorset Coastal Connections - People and Places' project.

ple and Places' project.

The funding will see an artist-inspired trail connecting the Town Mill and Uplyme along the existing well-used footpath, which currently provides difficult and limited access for the elderly, wheelchair-users and families with pushchairs/infants.

Speaking at this month's full council meeting, Councillor Larcombe asked for clarification on what an artist-inspired trail entailed, adding: "I hope we're not going to enter into another sculpture trail because, to me, that whole walkway is of a quality and type of the last kind in Lyme and I think we should keep it very much as it is."

"I wouldn't like to see added attractions or added things on that route. It's the last of that kind of walkway we've got."

The Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Owen Lovell, said that the proposal was originally put forward from Uplyme Parish Council, which was concerned about the condition of the path and wanted to make it passable all year round.

"I wasn't aware of any artistic input per say," he added.

Councillor Cheryl Reynolds confirmed that the proposal put forward to receive the Dorset Coastal Community Team funding did include some sculptures being installed along the trail.

Councillor Larcombe replied: "I would like to make it clear I have no problem with making the ground underfoot better and more fit for purpose, but it is the last vestige of any green space that's untouched and the idea that it might become something else, almost of a semi-commercial nature, I think would be wrong for Lyme and I hope we're going to have a proper discussion about that."

"I certainly don't want to see it become a second sculpture trail."

Councillor Lovell said he assumed a planning application would be put forward for any installations within Lyme Regis, but the council did not have any jurisdiction over the section of the trail in Uplyme.

Police appeal after fatal crash

POLICE are appealing for witnesses to come forward following a fatal road traffic collision near Charmouth.

Just after 5.30pm on Sunday, May 14th, emergency services were called to a serious four-vehicle collision on Axminster Road, locally known as the Charmouth bypass on the A35.

The vehicles involved were a black BMW estate car, a silver Volvo estate car, a blue Peugeot Allure and a blue Honda CR-V.

The driver of the BMW, a 68-year-old woman from the Sussex area, was pronounced dead at the scene. Her next of kin have been informed and the coroner has been notified.

The driver of the Volvo sustained minor injuries and was taken to Dorset County Hospital, as was the driver of the Peugeot, but female passenger and five teenagers also travelling in the car, all from the Hampshire area, were uninjured.

The driver of the Honda and a passenger - both from the Bournemouth area - were checked over by paramedics at the scene but did not sustain any injuries.

The road was closed at the Charmouth roundabout and the slip road on the east side of the A35 while emergency services dealt with the incident. It re-opened early on Monday morning.

Police Constable Fern Graham, of the traffic unit, said: "I am appealing to anyone who witnessed the incident or the manner of driving of any of the vehicles leading up to the collision to please come forward."

"We would like to thank motorists for their patience during the road closures which have been necessary to allow officers to examine the scene and for paramedics to care for those people involved."

School encourages more outside play thanks to town council grant

A LYME Regis school has received a welcome funding boost from the town council to help encourage more outside play.

St Michael's Primary School and Pre-School Parents and Friends Association (PFA) was awarded £2,500 by Lyme Regis Town Council to replace old and damaged sheds, used to store outdoor play equipment.

The equipment was becoming damaged, mouldy and unusable as the old metal sheds let in rain and damp.

Thanks to the town council grant, the school has now replaced them with four new wooden sheds, two of which are in the primary school playground and the other two at the pre-school.

Headteacher Nick Kiddle said: "A huge thank you to Lyme Regis Town Council. It will make a difference to the children every single day."

"We couldn't use the sheds before; we couldn't get in them because they were damp and smelly. Now we can store it safely, we are going to buy new equipment for the playground."

Micheala Demkiw, chairman of the PFA, added: "We are incredibly grateful for the grant. It's a lovely school and it's good to be able to promote it in a really positive way by working with the town council."

"We have such a good outdoor space, so to be able to have equipment stored safely in the sheds and this space, we are very lucky."

The pre-school is also making good use of its sheds.

■ TOWN councillors Cheryl Reynolds and Richard Doney present a cheque to Year 6 pupils at St Michael's Primary, PFA chairman Micheala Demkiw, and headteacher Nick Kiddle

Pre-school leader Mandy Broster said: "We use one of the sheds as a construction area. It gives the children the independence to get the equipment out when they want and encourages free choice for children."

Year 6 pupils showed the sheds to Councillor Cheryl Reynolds, chairman of the Tourism, Community and Publicity Committee, and vice-chairman Councillor Richard Doney.

Councillor Reynolds said: "The council couldn't do anything but support this grant. We also recognised the school supports the town by getting involved in local initiatives and attending local events."

Councillor Doney commented: "The council is insistent on doing what it can to help young people in Lyme Regis and it feels this is a priority."

Councillors Reynolds and Doney presented a cheque to the school and were thanked by the all the pupils during a morning assembly.

THE RNLI's yellow welly was welcomed in Lyme Regis last week, as it made its way along the Jurassic Coast.

The wellington boot is currently being passed around all lifeboat stations in the South West to raise funds for the RNLI's annual Mayday campaign, having started in Portishead at the beginning of the month, with crews coming up with their own imaginative ways to transport the boot around.

It is hoped the appeal will raise £750,000 to buy new kit for lifeboat crews, including life jackets, helmets and the iconic yellow wellies.

The welly arrived in Lyme Regis on Friday afternoon - delivered by members of the Sidmouth Independent Lifeboat and the Seaton, Beer & District RNLI branch - in a vintage Jaguar, which pulled up outside St Michael's Primary School.

The boot was passed around more than 100 pupils from the school, who spelt out the letters 'RNLI' on their playground. It was then handed to Lyme Regis lifeboat crew member Seb Cope who rode it on his penny farthing bicycle down to the lifeboat station on the Cobb, accompanied by RNLI mascot Stormy Stan.

On Saturday, the welly boot was taken aboard the lifeboat 'Spirit of Loch Fyne' and delivered to Weymouth by Seb and fellow crew member John Bird, where it was handed over on board the tall ship 'Pelican' to captain Mick Cunningham.

Lifeboat crew members from Weymouth were then expected to take the welly by bicycle to Swanage.

For more information on the RNLI's Mayday appeal, or to find out how to donate, visit the website <http://rnli.org/mayday>

All welcome at Blessing of the Boats

THE annual Blessing of the Boats service will be held at Lyme Regis lifeboat station on Sunday, May 21st.

The open air, inter-denominational service, starting at 3pm, will be led by Baptist Minister, the Reverend Chris Woodman, with the Reverend Keith Vivian, and visitors and residents are invited to take part.

The service is held every year on Rogation Sunday to remember those who have given their lives at sea. This year, the service will be supported by the town's gig, sailing and powerboat clubs.

At the end of the service three floral wreaths and a poppy wreath from the British Legion will be taken aboard the RNLI lifeboat and laid at sea.

Seasiders celebrate another season of

■ THE Rovers celebrate winning the Bill Bailey Cup, with manager Terry White, Perry Street League fixtures secretary Richard White and captain Pete Peacock pictured at the forefront

■ ALL trophy winners on the night celebrate their success

LYME Regis Football Club members celebrated another successful season at their annual presentation night and dinner on Friday.

The event was held at Lyme Regis Golf Club, where 80 members, supporters and special guests - including the Deputy Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Michaela Ellis, and her consort Alan Ellis - enjoyed a three-course dinner before the presentations got underway.

Councillor Ellis congratulated the club on another successful season, and other speeches were given by retired referee Bob Hall and Perry Street League fixtures secretary Richard White.

Club chairman Howard Larcombe looked back at some of the highlights of the season, which saw the First Team finish 6th in the Devon & Exeter League's Division 1 and the Reserves promoted after finishing third in Division 6, with the Football Express Cup Final still to play on May 20th.

But the real success story of the season was the club's third team, the Rovers, which entered the Perry Street League's Division 3 under the new management of Terry White, having had to pull out of the league last year, then known as the Bantams, due to lack of players.

The Rovers has seen an increase in regular players this season and finished in a credible fifth place, as well as winning the Bill Bailey Cup. Mr White was presented with a framed photo of the team, taken after winning the cup, as a thank you for his efforts.

Awards were handed out following the speeches, with Young Player of the Year presented to Kingsley Wellman, Clubman of the Year to treasurer Andrea Budden, and Top Scorer to Pete Peacock of the Rovers.

Other awards were as follows: First Team Manager's Player - Gary Knight; First Team Players' Player - Dominic Rowe; Reserves Manager's Player - Cameron Fowler and Mark Batey; Reserves Players' Player - Wallace Blackmore; Rovers Manager's Player - Jim Larcombe; Rovers Players' Player - Robbie Fowler.

'Thoroughly Modern Millie'

THE glitz and glamour of the 1920s came to the Marine Theatre as Lyme Regis Musical Theatre's production of 'Thoroughly Modern Millie' was performed to high acclaim.

Leading lady Jodie Glover stole the show as Millie Dillmount, a small-town girl from Kansas who arrives in New York in 1922, determined to live the modern lifestyle and make her way in the world and marry well.

It's here I'll have to declare a personal interest, as Jodie is a fellow employee at the View From Newspapers, but colleague or not, who can deny her exceptional talent? She Charleston-ed, high-kicked and sang her heart out throughout the show, barely off stage for a minute, and all with supreme skill and professionalism.

Jodie led a sterling supporting cast through demanding song and dance numbers, from the opening 'Not for the Life of Me' and title song 'Thoroughly Modern Millie', right through to the final curtain call.

My favourite scenes were those set at Millie's office, the Sincere Trust Insurance Company. 'The Speed Test' - which saw Mille depict typewriting through tap dance and the cast recite a wordy letter at increasing speed as her shorthand skills were put to test - showed off the clever choreography by Rachel Worsely. And the rousing 'Forget About The Boy' had the whole office joining in - even the stern Miss Flannery, excellently played by Anita

THEATRE REVIEW

Lyme Regis Musical Theatre's
'Thoroughly Modern Millie'

By Francesca Evans

Routley (another View From colleague - I'm not biased, promise!), whose superior attitude but ultimately warm heart won over the audience.

Millie set her sights firmly on marrying her suave new boss, Mr Trevor Graydon (Ben Malone), only for him to fall for her best friend, the sweeter-than-pie Miss Dorothy Brown (Alex Best), who both entertained during the soppy duet 'Falling in Love with Someone'.

But it was the slick Jimmy Smith, played by Cameron Love, who ultimately won the heart of the leading lady, thanks to the helpful advice of socialite Muzzy Van Hossmere, played by Sarah Causley, who added some 1920s razzle-dazzle as she delivered 'Only in New York' and 'Long as I'm Here With You'.

Jodie and Cameron, both seasoned local performers, had undeniable chemistry as their characters struggled to decide between following their heads or their hearts, and Cameron also took on tricky solos in 'What Do I Need with Love?' and 'I Turned a Corner' with gusto.

Meanwhile the show's villain, Mrs Meers (Tracey Wakeling), presided over Millie's digs, the Hotel Priscilla, where young actresses continued to suspiciously disappear, especially when they were "all alone in the world". Tracey's exceptional comic timing and questionable Chinese accent had the audience in stitches, abetted (or in some cases deterred!) by the hapless duo Ching Ho (Ian Styles) and Bun Foo (Kelly Apps), who impressively spoke and sang in Cantonese throughout the show.

Supported by an enthusiastic chorus, backstage crew and excellent live band, 'Thoroughly Modern Millie', directed by Clare Philbrock, was played to sell-out audiences and truly was the talk of the town. Having built a reputation for stepping outside of its comfort zone and staging challenging productions to a high quality, this year's offering from Lyme Regis Musical Theatre was no exception and is sure to reap the benefits at the National Operatic and Dramatic Association Awards.

Are you up to the Charmouth Challenge?

DO you fancy having fun, getting fit and raising money for Charmouth Primary School? Then why not dust off your trainers and take part in the Charmouth Challenge, where there something for all ages and abilities.

The annual Charmouth Challenge will be held on Saturday, July 1st and will this year include an eight-mile fell run, an eight-mile walk, both including a climb up Golden Cap - the highest point on the south coast - and a two-mile fun run.

The fell run is a challenging course both for competitive runners keen to beat the course record and those who prefer to take it a bit slower and take in the stunning scenery, while the fun run is suitable for the less experienced runner and children.

With something for all ages, Charmouth Challenge is a great family day out and Mrs Glennie, whose family took part last year, commented: "We're one of many in this hugely popular, family-focused event that helps Charmouth and the school in so many ways, raising finances, boosting community spirit and putting our little slice of West Dorset loveliness firmly on the runner's map. A fell run, after all, is not to be sneezed at.

"The wider fell running family, massed mostly in the north, have embraced their southern cousin and we get runners participating from far and wide, enjoying the community's kind heartedness, its beautiful coastal location and all the delicious post-run cakes in the school's grounds. So, if you want to witness a spirited community gathering why not come along?"

A fete will be held at Charmouth Primary School on the day and all proceeds from the event will go towards the school. Sponsors include Black Cow Vodka, Lyme Bay Holidays, Clipper Tea, Newlands Holiday Park, Thomas Westcott solicitors, Stags estate agents and Creditor Milling company.

Full details of the event and how to enter are available at www.charmouthchallenge.com or call 07554 451 347.

Dementia Friends

Specsavers' optical and hearing teams become Dementia Friends

With visual impairments common among those with dementia, Specsavers is ensuring a trip to the opticians and audiologists is as comfortable as possible for them.

In the run up to Dementia Awareness Week (15-21 May), Specsavers employees nationwide are becoming Dementia Friends, an initiative run by the Alzheimer's Society. Every store now has at least one team member who is a Dementia Friend and understands the needs of customers with dementia a little more. The Specsavers Healthcall teams that carry out home visits are also becoming Dementia Friends.

Specsavers is also using Dementia Awareness Week to remind anyone over 55 to undergo regular hearing tests, as research suggests that people with untreated hearing loss are more likely to develop Alzheimer's. Hearing tests are free at Specsavers.

Dr Nigel Best, Specsavers clinical spokesperson, says: 'People with dementia may not be able to recognise or articulate the issues that many of us face when we begin to lose our sight or hearing - but the effects are the same. Being more aware of dementia is an incredibly positive development for our teams and our offering to customers.'

Those with dementia commonly experience problems with their sight and visual perception, causing them to misinterpret the world around them. Some sufferers can experience hallucinations. On top of that, research has revealed that almost half of dementia patients in care homes are wearing glasses with the wrong prescription, leading to increased isolation.

Laura Stallerbrass, store manager at Specsavers Forfar, has encouraged all her team to do Dementia Friends.

'We aim to provide a safe environment for all of our customers. I can definitely see a shift in attitudes to dementia which is lovely to experience.'

Christian Aid's Ann presented with Diamond Award

FROM helping organise Lent lunches, to cake sales and street collections, the dedication of Lyme Regis fundraiser Ann Sargent has been recognised by the international aid and development charity, Christian Aid.

Ann, a member of St Michael's Parish Church, who has been involved in fundraising for Christian Aid for over 50 years, was presented with a Diamond Award for her ongoing commitment to tackling global poverty and injustice by the charity's regional co-ordinator for Dorset, Fiona Daborn.

The Diamond Awards were created by Christian Aid to recognise the crucial part played by supporters as it marks 60 years of its annual fundraising drive, Christian Aid Week, held this year from May 14th to 20th.

Christian Aid was established in the aftermath of the Second World War in response to the suffering of refugees scattered across Europe, and this year is appealing once again to the public to support those people forced from their homes by conflict and crisis in today's world.

Lyme Regis Christian Aid Group has raised £6,750 for Christian Aid Week since 2012 and this year's event will include a cream tea on Saturday, May 20th from 2.30pm to 5pm at The Red House in Sidmouth Road.

Ann said: "Having lived in Zambia for two years I saw poverty and malnutrition with my own eyes.

"I first got involved with Christian Aid in the 1960s when we were invited round to a friend's house for dinner and, to pay for our dinner, we were challenged to join in with the local house-to-house collection! We are still friends with those folks to this day and we all still support Christian Aid.

"The theme for Christian Aid Week this year really resonates with me because I think it is so important that we look after refugees."

Ed Standhart, Christian Aid group treasurer for Lyme Regis, who nominated Ann for the award, commented: "Ann feels very positive about Christian Aid and her hard work is known not just in Lyme Regis but throughout the wider Golden Cap group and is supported by other churches in the town."

Fiona Daborn added: "Right now Christian Aid is tackling poverty in 39 countries around the world, including providing support to refugees and food and water to those on the brink of starvation across East Africa where the lives of 16 million people hang in the balance.

"It is no exaggeration to say that it is thanks to the dedication and vision of supporters like Ann that we are able to not only reach these people in desperate need but also challenge the causes of poverty and empower people to lift themselves out of poverty at the same time.

"Our supporters' commitment changes lives and it is a privilege to recognise Ann's contribution towards a world where people not only survive, but are given the opportunity to thrive."

You can help to change the lives of people trapped in poverty and affected by conflict and crisis this Christian Aid Week by donating online at www.caweeek.org calling 08080 006 006, or texting 'GIVE' to 70040 to give £5.

■ SHE'S A DIAMOND: Ann Sargent and fellow Christian Aid volunteers from Lyme Regis

Bymead House staff in Colour Run

■ STAFF from Bymead House in Charmouth took part in the 4K Colour Run, held on May 6th in Lodmoor Country Park in aid of Weldmar Hospicecare. Those taking part included registered manager Lisa Walters, deputy manager Sarah Weare and members of the nursing, carers, housekeeping, admin and cooking teams - Honeybee Toledo, Amy Blacklock, Lisa Wood, Emily Stewart, Olive Haida, Lorna Gould, Tracey Wood, and Lisa's two sons, Dylan and Harri Walters. A spokesperson for the team said: "A fantastic time was had by all the team, who enjoyed the atmosphere, contributing to such a worthwhile charity and getting covered in colour."

Further thought to be given to cafe in gardens

THE Mayor of Lyme Regis has asked fellow councillors to reconsider after they dismissed plans for a café and public toilets in Lister Gardens, insisting that the council wanted "quality".

Improving facilities in the public gardens, to include a café and public toilets, was one of the town council's objectives for 2018/19 but members recently rejected plans first put forward in 2009, after the scheme was re-costed at £308,345 – about five times more than the council's budget of £60,000.

Councillors said they could consider a "more modest" design next year instead, with deputy town clerk, Mark Green, suggesting that timber-clad buildings could be used for a small café, but toilets would always be expensive.

The mayor, Councillor Owen Lovell, was not present when the matter was discussed but asked councillors to reconsider at this month's full council meeting, saying he understood there had been some "misconception" over the price of the scheme but the council wanted "quality gardens".

He added that the council was planning to apply for funding from the Coastal Communities Team for the project.

"You can chop the size of the scheme around but don't put a wooden shed up there; we've had wooden sheds up there for years and it's about time we moved forward with something a bit more permanent and in keeping with what people keep telling me are quality gardens," he added.

Town Management Committee chairman, Councillor Stan Williams, commented: "We were horrified by the size and the cost of the scheme but we do want something neat and attractive so I'm happy to take it back to committee."

Councillor Cheryl Reynolds said that the scheme needed to be "quality" or the Coastal Communities Team would not consider it.

"Then we'll end with no money from them and a shed," she added.

It was agreed that the matter would be referred back to the Town Management Committee for further consideration.

■ A WEEKEND of live music, entertainment and special events was held at the Town Mill in Lyme Regis for its annual MillFest. Celebrating National Mills Week-end, the events got underway on Saturday morning when town crier Alan Vian declared the festival officially open, followed by a performance from Uplyme Morris. The weekend also included guided tours of the historic working watermill and lessons in bread-making, as well as children's craft activities, art exhibitions and entertainment from the Lyme Luggers, acoustic duo Hazel and David and the Lym Delta Rhythmn Kings.

Young artists express their creativity at Town Mill club

CHILDREN from Lyme Regis were able to proudly show their families their first shared gallery exhibition in the Town Mill's Malt-house Gallery on May Day.

The young artists, who ranged in age from five to 11 and attended the mill's after-school art club, Mini Mill Arts Academy, worked on a sequential project exploring line, tone and colour based on faces. The club has been held on Monday afternoons in the mill's community room from February half term, and the young artists are already showing imagination, originality and vision that belies their age.

The Town Mill's artistic director, Phil Clayton, commented: "These are a great group of local kids, who are showing lots of emerging talent. I'm thrilled that the number that attend our after-school club is growing week on week – our main concern now is having the capacity to meet the demand so that all the children on our waiting list can benefit from this opportunity."

BLUE LIGHT SKIN TREATMENT A ZAPPER'S DELIGHT

by Katie Wright, Press Association

WE'RE told to avoid the glare of phone screens at night because it keeps us awake, but Katie Wright discovers blue light can be an effective acne treatment.

Like many people, I spent my teenage years plagued by spots and was relieved when my complexion cleared up just as I was heading off to university.

But then in my mid-20s, slowly but surely, acne started to reappear.

It was never severe but my quest for spot-free skin continued into my 30s - and I'm not the only one.

The Association of Dermatologists reports a 200% rise in adult acne in recent years, likely due to a limited number of skincare specialists in the NHS.

Referred by my doctor, I went to a dermatologist. After trying various antibiotics and topical creams, I was prescribed Roaccutane, the controversial super-strength drug that can cause side effects, such as low mood and extremely dry skin.

It really worked, though, and I had perfect skin... but only for a year, after which the spots returned, albeit mildly.

Reluctant to go back for another six-month stint on Roaccutane, I decided to give a blue-light device a go, unconvinced that swiping a light-up gadget over my face twice a day would really help.

I was wrong. Within a few weeks my skin was virtually spot-free (save for the odd PMS-induced blemish) and I had ditched all my other creams and pills.

So, how exactly does blue light eliminate acne?

"Blue light kills bacteria in the pores, and over time this will slow down and reduce the acne cycle," explains Rebecca Bennett, a skincare expert at Johnson & Johnson.

Some devices emit red light as well, because it "reduces inflammation caused by acne - the redness or the height of the spots, for example. Red light can also help shrink the sebaceous glands that produce the oil that clogs pores."

Tests on Neutrogena's new Visibly Clear Light Therapy Acne Mask have delivered impressive results.

"In clinical trials, 80% of testers said they started to see the benefits after just one week, and after the 12-week trial period 94% experienced an improvement in their complexion," Bennett reports.

HEALTH & WELLBEING

feel great..

There is a variety of at-home devices on the market, and it can take only minutes a day to make a massive difference for mild to moderate acne sufferers.

Some are expensive, but compared with years of repeat prescriptions and over-the-counter creams, they may well work out cheaper. Here are six of the best...

SIX ACNE-CLEARING BLUE LIGHT DEVICES

- Neutrogena Visibly Clear Light Therapy Acne Mask, £59.99, Boots (www.boots.com)

Pros: A truly passive treatment, you pop on the mask, hit the start button and relax for 10 minutes (there's an eyehole so you can carry on watching TV but moving around is a bit trickier).

Cons: The mask emits both red and blue light, but as there's a gap between the lights and your skin, it may take longer to penetrate the skin. You also have to buy a replacement Activator, which contains 30 charges and costs £14.99, every month, so it works out at almost £240 per year.

- Talika Free Skin Anti-Blemish Device, £69, LookFantastic.com

Pros: The smallest of all the devices, the Talika is simple to use (and store), and is best if you need to target only small patches of acne with both red and blue light. It's also the cheapest over a year.

Cons: For the most effective treatment, you'll need to use it three times a day for two minutes at a time.

- Silk'n Blue Anti Acne Device, £139 (www.facethefuture.co.uk)

Pros: The Silk'n Blue is compact but the

Talika Free Skin
Anti-Blemish Device

blue light-emitting surface is a decent size for the price, so you can treat targeted areas in four minutes or larger patches in 10 minutes.

Cons: It only emits blue light, not red.

- Lumie Clear Acne Treatment Light, £149.99, Boots (www.boots.com)

Pros: Offering the largest surface area, the Lumie combines red and blue light in one cordless device that comes with a stand to allow you to target your body as well as your face.

Cons: Treatment takes anywhere from 15 minutes per area to 45 minutes, depending on how far away the light is.

- Baby Quasar Clear Rayz for Acne, £203.15, CurrentBody.com

Pros: The light surface area is large and the device has an in-built timer.

Cons: The blue and red lights are on opposite sides of the device and you have to follow a day-by-day regimen for three minutes in each area you're treating, remembering to alternate between blue and red, for eight weeks.

- Lustre Pure Light Pro Acne Treatment, £269, CurrentBody.com

Pros: With disposable patches that stick the lights to your skin, the Lustre offers a hands-free approach and the ability to treat three areas at once.

Cons: Treatment takes 20 minutes, much longer than some devices, and it's the most expensive.

Orchid Spa Complementary Therapies Practice

Orchid Spa can be your escape

TWO thousand years ago Plato pointed out that "the part can never be well unless the whole is well". We do not leave in vacuum. Everything we do is interconnected to all the parts of our lives. Sickness and disease are not isolated phenomena existing in their own little corners of our word any more than are health and healing. Our state of our health is influenced by all our activities, work and play, every relationship, the food we eat, our emotions and personalities, our physical living conditions.

When you have a headache, you take it with you everywhere. It becomes part of your whole life. When you feel wonderful, that exuberance and joy permeates your relationships at work and play.

My personal believe is that Reflexology, Massage and any other Holistic treatments can be a faithful source of strength and well-being, and should not be treated as a bottle of aspirin, sitting on the shelf waiting for a headache to come along before you use it.

Holistic treatments are more than just a remedy for unexpected ailments. It is a method for enhancing your ordinary life by keeping you at the peak of your energies and creativity. It is a preventive measure to maintain a well-balanced body that can ward off illness and fatigue and maintain an optimal state of health and well-being so that whatever you do, you do with more enthusiasm, joy and energy.

Reflexology, massage and any other type of Holistic treatments (Facial, Hydrotherapy, Infra-Red sauna) is a guaranteed method of relaxing body, composing the mind, and reenergizing and balancing the biological systems on which health depends. It is a powerful antidote to stress, neutralizing and even preventing the insidious effects of stress: the headaches, insomnia, high blood pressure, colds, indigestion, backaches, neck and shoulders tension, and other minor ailments that plague us.

Exhibition explores Pound Street and Sidmouth Road

AN exhibition from Lyme Regis Museum's archive featuring Pound Street and Sidmouth Road areas is currently on display in the Jubilee Pavilion on Marine Parade.

The exhibition was first shown in the 1990s and, starting at the Alexandra Hotel, includes photos going up the hill to the county border, and features some of the houses and people who lived in them.

Over the border, the Undercliff is shown, together with a series of the maps of the area from the mid 19th century to the present day.

The name of the exhibition, "All the Way to Donkey Green", is taken from the name of a clearing in the Undercliff popular in the past with locals and used for picnics and community fun and games, but now overgrown and unrecognisable.

Annual meeting in Charmouth

THE annual parish meeting of Charmouth will be held in St Andrew's Community Hall on Wednesday, May 24th at 7.30pm.

Repairs planned for parish church clock

THE parish church clock will be repaired shortly, Lyme Regis councillors have been told.

Councillor Derek Hallett recently questioned when the clock at St Michael's Parish Church, which has not worked for several months, would be repaired, describing the church as just as important a landmark as the town's famous harbour.

"Everyone this side of town looks at that clock and we should be pressuring the Parochial Church Council to see if it can be done," he commented.

"I know they've had problems but it really is going on and on. It's a wonderful clock and it should be working."

Councillor Michaela Ellis reported that she had discussed the matter with members of the Parochial Church Council who were hoping to resolve the issue shortly. She added that they were waiting to get new parts and "had to go through the correct processes".

I READ a fascinating and disturbing article recently called 'God in the machine'. It was written by Meghan O'Gieblyn, a young woman who dropped out of Bible College and stopped believing in God.

The story describes the trauma of her wrestling with the consequences of abandoning belief in a God that seemed irrelevant to her life. She describes becoming intensely interested in a new kind of faith, now being labelled 'Transhumanism'. One of the proponents of this new thinking is called Ray Kurzweil, who writes: "In the 21st century the human species, along with all the computational technology it created, will be able to solve age-old problems – and will be able to change the nature of mortality in a post-biological future".

He says that we will become 'spiritual machines', resurrecting our minds into supercomputers, allowing us to live forever.

What do you think about this possibility, that we could be able one day to acquire through the matrix of advanced computers limitless powers of thought? In some ways the idea seems very attractive – perhaps once again we are doing God's work for Him. However, there are serious problems – if I leave my physical body behind will I lose an essential part of my identity? My thinking is formed out of the experiences I have through my physical senses of the wonderful world around me. We are a whole being of body, mind and soul, interrelating closely together to form our unique personalities – not to be interlinked into a homogenous unit.

Interestingly, there is now an organisation called 'Christian Transhumanists', which argues that technology will be the avenue by which humanity achieves the resurrection and immortality that is promised by Christ to all believers. Google the article "Is A.I. a threat to Christianity?" if you want to continue your searches into this!

This is still your newspaper!

MY attempt to start a new newspaper group in East Devon did not exactly get off to a stunning start.

I thought it would be clever to call our first edition "This Is Honiton" which would lend itself to using "This is..." as the title for the various sections, ie "This is Motoring", "This is Entertainment". You get the idea, I'm sure.

We had agreed to print the first edition on the Express & Echo press in Exeter and gave notice what we intended to call our publication. I was invited to the press hall on the Sowton estate to see the first edition off the press, which is normal when launching a new title. I think we may have cracked open a bottle of bubbly. Nothing was said about the name of the paper.

In those days in April 2005 local newspapers were enjoying something of a revival after the difficult recession years of the early 1990s. The Express & Echo was owned by Northcliffe Newspapers, one of the giants of the regional press, and I did not imagine for one moment we would cause too much alarm in the higher echelons of Northcliffe's management.

Although we encroached on the Echo's Honiton territory I doubt whether it was thought we would provide much competition.

The printers and local management congratulated us on the look of the paper and I drove home satisfied with our first editions and determined to build a stable in East Devon.

By group editor and founder PHILIP EVANS

But within 24 hours I had a very disturbing call from a Northcliffe executive saying that if I did not change the name of our paper they would refuse to print us and serve an injunction on us to stop using the title "This Is". I was flabbergasted. Only a few hours earlier we were being congratulated on the production of the first edition.

It turned out that Northcliffe's websites in the South West were called "This Is" followed by the town or county name and it was thought this would cause some confusion among the readers and possible lost revenue.

I had launched my new publishing venture on a shoestring and had no intention of entering into a lengthy legal battle with one of the UK's most successful and profitable publishing houses.

I had started the venture by launching a monthly in the countryside around Honiton called "View from the Blackdown Hills" so I quickly decided to call our new weekly "View from Honiton".

Not one reader questioned the change the following week or queried why our dump bins in the supermarkets were branded "This Is Your Local Newspaper". I suppose that description still ran true and some of those bins are still in operation today.

The Honiton edition was quickly followed by one for Colyton, which had never had its own newspaper before, Seaton, Axminster, Sidmouth and Ottery St Mary.

Within a year we crossed the Dorset border with new editions for Lyme Regis, Bridport, Beaminster and Dorchester before looking towards South Somerset and town titles for Crewkerne, Chard and Ilminster. The final piece to our distribution jigsaw was Weymouth.

We started distributing 7,000 copies a week and by the time we got to Weymouth we were having to print 40,000 copies at peak times all available free via dump bins at around 500 different drop-off points in East Devon, West Dorset and South Somerset.

We started with just five employees, now we have more than 30. And as one executive of a rival publisher told me quite recently: "You have been a bloody irritant!"

They were heady days. My wife Jackie and I worked seven days a week for several years without a holiday and sometimes without getting paid and we both suffered serious illnesses. We can't say it was down to the stress of building a publishing empire but I don't suppose it helped.

We were lucky. We recruited a dedicated and committed staff, many of whom shared our ups and downs and are still with us..

It has not been all plain sailing. The recession of 2008 hit us hard, as it did all local newspapers, and it took us years to recover. But we managed to keep our employees in a job.

Eventually I was forced to sell out to Lyme Regis businessman Jerry Ramsdale who saved us from going out of business and then we became part of the Tindle Newspapers Group, owned and run by a legend of my industry, Sir Ray Tindle, and were amalgamated with my beloved Pulman's Weekly News where I cut my teeth in journalism. We still carry that name on the front page of our Axminster edition.

Two years ago I gained part ownership of the titles after launching new titles into central London for Sir Ray, a huge challenge and one I have enjoyed immensely.

Our business has changed immensely over the years, not only for the minnows like View From but also for our larger competitors who have had to reduce staffing levels and close offices.

We have amalgamated editions to stay ahead of the game as times are still really tough with local papers facing increased competition from the digital media.

But as we head towards our 600th edition let me go back to day one.

Whilst I can't use the name on our front page, THIS IS STILL YOUR NEWSPAPER and we hope it will remain that way for many years to come.

...and more vital than ever

IN the countdown to this year's Local Newspaper Week, the people who bring you the View From and Pulman's Weekly News series of newspapers are joining fellow publishers across Britain to launch the first ever print and digital campaign against fake news and highlight the very high levels of trust that readers place in local newspapers

FIGHTING FAKE NEWS

A NEW press campaign called Fighting Fake News will see local newspapers like ours across the UK carry editorial and graphics highlighting the industry's highly trusted credentials and the importance of local newspapers in reporting on the issues like the forthcoming general election.

Papers will highlight the checks and balances involved in reporting local news and the investment required to produce local journalism as opposed to distributing fake news to profit from opaque programmatic advertising.

The campaign will also highlight the highly-trusted environment which local papers provide for advertisers and commercial partners.

Co-ordinated through Local Media Works, the local marketing arm of the News Media Association, Fighting Fake News will run up to and complement Local Newspaper Week, which highlights local newspapers' ability to make a difference for their communities through campaigning.

News Media Association chairman Ashley Highfield said: "The critical role of local newspapers in providing local communities with highly trusted news and advertisement platforms is even more important than ever in the run up to the general election."

"Through their reporting, local newspapers uphold, promote and support democracy, fighting against the fake news which undermines and subverts it. We must champion the vital democratic function of local newspapers now, more than ever."

Fighting Fake News will run up to and through Local Newspaper Week

(May 15 to 21) which, through Making a Difference, will see the local newspaper industry come together to celebrate the campaigning achievements of local newspapers.

Prime Minister Theresa May has given her backing to the Fighting Fake News campaign by warning of the dangers of fake news distributed on social media.

Mrs May also said she gave her strong support to a free press which underpins democracy by investing in highly trusted journalism.

She said: "We need to be very wary of this concept of fake news. We have got a situation with social media and different outlets where anybody can put something on a social media site as if it's real without anybody checking."

"People need to recognise that and recognise you can't trust everything you see on social media."

"We know newspapers have a responsibility that they take seriously in terms of what they are reporting."

"A free press is very important, it underpins our democracy. It's also important for [politicians] to make sure the statements we make are upfront and transparent for people."

Mrs May was speaking as the local press industry runs the Fighting Fake News campaign to highlight the importance of trusted local media journalism in the run up to the general election.

Our Fight-

ing Fake News campaign is aimed at reminding readers about the importance of our brands in bringing you trusted news. In a world where misinformation and unsubstantiated facts can be published to huge audiences via social media platforms, with no regulation, papers like the View From and Pulman's Weekly News series have a long and proud history of bringing you well researched and accurate journalism. Throughout the campaign, we will be asking readers and advertisers to support us in delivering this message and to get involved in learning about how we carry out our trade.

Right time to support your local newspaper

ADVERTISING in your local newspaper and on its website is not just good for your business – it is a socially responsible way to support your community and to support local companies.

That was one of the messages to emerge in the run up to Local Newspaper Week.

Research shows that local newspapers are the most trusted of all sources of news and information and remain critical in ensuring communities are not merely kept informed of decisions that directly affect them but are also central to the debate.

Firms that advertise regularly do not merely benefit from that engaged and responsive readership – they are fundamental to ensuring that everyone can get access to a copy and that quality journalism remains an intrinsic and essential part.

Without any advertising, many local newspapers like the View From and Pulman's Weekly News series would not survive. That could mean that far from being able to pick up your favourite newspaper for free, you would be asked to pay potentially several pounds per edition, depending on the number of pages and the size of the editorial operation.

Advertising has always underpinned great local journalism – but in recent years part of that revenue stream has moved away, often to entirely unregulated social sites where there are no embedded checks against fake news nor professionally-trained journalists.

The View From and Pulman's Weekly News titles that serve our part of the world are subject to some of the most robust regulation in the world. They are bound by the Editors' Code of Practice, which sets out clear standards on everything from accuracy to respecting privacy and protecting children.

Their regulator is the Independent Press Standards Organisation, which has wide-ranging powers, from insisting on corrections to launching standards inquiries and ultimately imposing fines.

Lord Justice Leveson, in his inquiry into the Press, praised local and regional titles. His report described them as a much valued and important part of the British press.

He said: "It is clear to me that local, high-quality and trusted newspapers are good for our communities, our identity and our democracy and play an important social role."

According to the Making A Difference campaign run by Local Media Works, the local marketing arm of the News Media Association (NMA), local titles like this one collectively reach 40 million people across the UK. There are 1,000 local newspapers and 1,700 associated websites.

Together they are the first port of call for 5.4 million people looking for a bargain.

Most tellingly, according to research data provided by the campaign organisers, local media is the most trusted source of information and readers are more than twice as likely to act on ads in local media than ads on TV and social media.

The News Media Association's deputy chief executive Lynne Anderson said: "News media publishers are the best defence against fake news because they invest in high quality journalism which readers can rely on. This in turn creates a highly trusted and engaging environment which drives real action for commercial partners.

"It is vital that we do everything we can to support original journalism and enable newspapers to continue their proud tradition of robustly holding power to account through the campaigning and investigative reporting which underpins democracy in this country."

Throughout the 19th century, there were ongoing battles against taxes on newspapers because they were seen as 'taxes on knowledge' until Chancellor of the Exchequer William Gladstone abolished all such duties.

There are some who believe that as a result the press played a critical role in the spread of trusted information which was fundamental to the social reform that we all take for granted.

That's why newspapers are so proud of their advertisers.

By advertising with local newspapers and websites businesses continue to do the very best for their customers and for the whole community in which they operate.

Alasdair Beatson in concert

ALASDAIR BEATSON'S reputation as a musician of the highest order precedes him. This gifted young Scottish pianist, who is also Concerts in the West's patron, delivers consistently brilliant performances that have earned him glowing reviews from the toughest music critics.

Renowned as a dedicated musician and a 'canny and uncompromising' programmer, Beatson is unafraid to explore more exotic pieces and his programme for his Concerts in the West 1-3 June tour, which features a selection by Beethoven, Bartok, Debussy, Schumann, Dohnanyi and Satie, reflects this bold but successful approach.

Alasdair's previous Concerts in the West performances has shown him to be an intense artiste, totally involved in his choice of works. He seeks to overcome an audience's preconceived ideas through the power of music and his concerts undoubtedly leave a lasting impression. His individual approach and magical interpretations all contribute to building an excellent rapport with the audience.

As well as having an affinity with the classical repertoire, especially the music of Schumann (featured in this tour's programme) and Fauré, he also enjoys exploring more exotic arrangements and for Concerts in the West he will, as part of the programme for the four concerts, be playing Debussy's Images Book 2, which reflects his passion for pictures - "I love pictures almost as much as music" - and his desire to paint pictures with his music.

Alasdair is a prolific soloist and chamber musician and his 2017 concerts include London's Wigmore Hall and Kings Place, Zurich's Tonhalle, the West Cork Chamber Music Festival and festivals such as Ryedale, Resonances and Ernen. This year a recording of 19th century music for horn and piano, featuring Alasdair with Alec Frank-Gemmill will be released on the BIS Records label.

Catherine Maddocks, founder and director of Concerts in the West, said: "It is such a pleasure to welcome back Alasdair Beatson. He first performed for Concerts in the West in 2007, just as he was embarking on a career as a professional musician, and then again in 2012 and 2014. In that time he has gone on to achieve many great things, so we are delighted that he is able to take the time to perform for Concerts in the West audiences. For us, it is like welcoming an old friend."

Alasdair Beatson plays at coffee concert at Bridport Arts Centre on Friday, June 2nd from 11am-12noon. Tickets are £10 (concessions available), available by calling 01308 424204 or online at www.bridport-arts.com

What happens when the wildest parts of our imagination take control?

WHAT happens when the wildest parts of our imagination take control? After the death of her mother, Ellie escapes to a flickering world of comic book heroes and bewitching strangers. But as the walls of her new world begin to crumble, Ellie must finally face the truth behind her fantasies.

A visually stunning exploration of the power of grief and childish imagination. This play has particular resonance in Mental Health Awareness Week, touching on themes of loss and adolescent mental health through innovative theatrical stylings.

Developed with teenagers, therapists, psychiatrists and neurologists with support from the Wellcome Trust and Arts Council England, Sparkle &

Dark Theatre Company have explored how the edges of clinical diagnoses can blur with the idea of an active, childhood imagination where alternative worlds are often created as coping mechanisms.

Also at Bridport Arts Centre. I Am Beast comes to Bridport Arts Centre on Saturday, May 20th at 8pm. Tickets are £12/£10, available from www.bridport-arts.com 01308 424204.

I Am Beast will also be performed at Dorchester Corn Exchange on Wednesday, May 24th. Doors and bar open 7.30pm, with the show starting at 8pm. Tickets are £12 or £10 members and concessions, available online at www.dorchesterarts.org.uk or by calling 01305 266926.

Trailblazing journalist Kate Adie to talk at Bridport Arts Centre

AWARD-WINNING journalist and former BBC chief news correspondent, Kate Adie will talk about her life and career in a fundraiser for Bridport Arts Centre on Saturday 3 June, 7.30pm.

Adie blazed a trail for journalists and for women, reporting live from war zones and hotspots around the world. Since hanging up her flak jacket, she has concentrated on writing about her life and career, and the impact of conflict on women across the world.

Kate is also the long-serving presenter of Radio 4's From Our Own Correspondent and a presenter or contributor to many other radio and television programmes.

This fundraising event will be chaired by BAC's Director Laura Cockett. There will be an opportunity for the audience to ask questions at the end of her talk.

Laura said "It's an honor to welcome Kate to the Arts Centre, we're touched by her great generosity in doing this event as a fundraiser. Come along and hear about her remarkable career".

Tickets are £10 available from www.bridport-arts.com or by calling 01308 424204.

Wille and the Bandits ride into Lyme Regis

WILLE and The Bandits, break off from their European tour, to return to the South West to headline the Lyme Regis Jazz & Blues Weekend finale on Sunday, May 28th at the Marine Theatre.

With extensive touring, with the likes of Deep Purple, Status Quo and Joe Bonamassa, Wille and The Bandits have slowly but surely built a strong reputation beyond their Cornish roots.

As a hard-working three-piece, Wille's Bandits are too wild and experimental to be musically pigeon-holed. Stylistically crossing Cream with Jimi Hendrix, they've just released their third album, Steal, which delivers old school blues rock with a vibrant twist.

Just consider the number of instruments which they usually take on stage – with Wille's slide acoustic and lap slide guitars and a Weissenborn, Mathew Brooks with a six-string and five-string electric double bass and Andy Naumann on drums, djembe and congas.

"It stems from playing in Cornwall in barns and jamming with lots of instruments", says Wille Edwards. "Flying to gigs is a nightmare with the amount of stuff we have. Sometimes I wish we were a ukulele band".

So, how would they describe their music? "It's rootsy, bluesy and rocky – we straddle genres. We give marketing people headaches because they like to be able to pigeon-hole music but we've never wanted to stick with one genre".

They are, in other words, unique. But from this musical melting pot comes some of the most exciting, funkiest "blues" around – which is best experienced live. It is not surprising then that they were voted one of the top ten must-see bands at Glastonbury by Radio 1.

■ Wille and the Bandits

To prove this very point they recorded their latest album, Steal, on old school analogue tape, played as one take, to reproduce the sound of their live performances.

Supporting Wille is local bluesman, Adam Sweet, whose blues-influenced solo career, perfectly marries fine guitar picking with soulful vocals and increasingly accomplished song-writing.

Wille And The Bandits, play at Lyme Regis Jazz & Blues Weekend on Sunday, May 28th at 8pm. Tickets are available by calling 01297 442138 or online at the website www.lymeregisjazzfestival.co.uk.

Sounds of the 60s

AWARD-WINNING musicians 'The Zoots' have sold over half a million albums, wowed audiences of stage and screen in more than 30 countries, and played iconic venues like Old Trafford and The London Palladium. The Zoots' music has appeared on TV ads, and made lead singer Jamie Goddard a gold-selling songwriter. Yet according to the band, their greatest challenge comes on May 19th in Lyme Regis – because that's when The Zoots debut at The Marine Theatre!

With his clean-cut good looks and friendly manner, you might be forgiven for thinking that dishy lead singer Jamie Goddard would be unfazed by being in the spotlight. After all, Jamie divides his time between working as a male fashion model, and being the front man for a family-friendly, Sixties-themed band that 'The Stage' calls "impossible not to like". But Jamie is nervous about playing The Zoots' hit show at the place he spent lots of holidays, he toured The Zoots round an incredible 30 countries before finally summoning the courage to organise a show at The Marine Theatre in Lyme Regis.

It's been a great twelve months for The Zoots. The band headlined at The Goodwood Festival, and were featured in the book 'Guardians of Rock and Roll' by world-famous photographer Michael Randolph, who was the official photographer to The Rolling Stones.

Tickets for The Zoots' Sounds of the 60s on Friday, May 19th are available for just £15, £13 concessions from Lyme Regis Tourist Information Centre or call the box office on 01297 442138.

The Anchor Inn is VisitEngland's Tourism Pub of the Year

THE ANCHOR INN at Seatown, near Bridport, is no stranger to an award and has just topped the lot with a huge national accolade having just been crowned Visit England's tourism pub of the year! It's the latest in a list of seven top awards the pub has picked up since October 2016, including Dorset's best pub (National Pub and Bar Awards 2017), Dorset's Best Gastro Pub (Dorset Food & Drink awards) and Taste of the West Gold.

It really is a sign of how far they've come since their refurbishment, which was three years ago this month and one year on from head chef Jean-Paul De Ronne taking the helm in the kitchen and David Smith working his magic with the drinks and cocktail menu.

This month also sees the launch of the new summer menu, which can be seen on the page opposite. The menu is very much a progression from last summer's offering, which had a real feel of outdoor summer eating meets fine dining. This summer's menu develops the outdoor eating flavour but goes a little bit "dirtier" with lots of BBQ style dishes utilising local produce from Belair Hayes Farm and Jurassic Meats. It definitely has a fun, summer food vibe and sees the return of some true Anchor favourites. One such example is the Anker hot dog (Anker from the measurement used by smugglers to Lyme Bay in the 18th century), described by actor Martin Clunes as the best hot dog he's ever had. The 10 inch own recipe German style sausage is complimented by browned onions, kraut slaw, cheddar and maple mustard.

The burgers are also something to savour and the Smugglers Burger is another making a big comeback with a revamp. A smoked beef patty using Jurassic Coast Meat's minced beef topped with slow cooked and charred pork shoulder from rare breed farm Bellair Haye. It is then topped with locally made smoked cheddar, pickled cucumber & finished with roasted garlic mayo - a prime example of perfect summer food.

Diners can always expect to see plenty of fresh crab and lobster dishes throughout the summer season on the specials board. Caught literally yards from the kitchen, these dishes will have travelled some of the shortest food miles possible. This ultra-local theme continues throughout the menu with JP and the rest of the kitchen team foraging for lots of ingredients on the beach and countryside surrounding the pub.

As well as using local produce, another major feature of the food at the Anchor is sustainability and strong ethics. JP uses the menu to raise awareness of the plight of the British Billy Goat and introduces a goat dish into the starters. Wonderful, local, underused meat that is crucial to the sustainability of the great British menu.

Despite the humble ethics of the team in the kitchen you can also expect to find something a little different and out of the ordinary. Previously this would have been found in the shape of dishes such as compressed watermelon, but JP's latest creation is a cured pressed cucumber dish that can be found amongst the starters. If you are feeling adventurous and want to try something that experiments with some new and exciting flavour combinations, give it a try!

The Anchor Inn boasts one of the best settings along the Jurassic Coast with spectacular views of Lyme Bay, which can be experienced from three guest rooms as well as the terrace. A trip to the Anchor is an absolute must.

Dacia Summit range arrives in the UK

DACIA has launched a new special edition range – the SE Summit – on the Duster, New Sandero Stepway and New Logan MCV Stepway, based on the top-level trim for each vehicle. Revealed at the Geneva International Motor Show in March, the distinctive and affordable Summit Special Editions will be available in the UK from June priced from £10,995.

Inspired by the great outdoors, the SE Summit range bring an exclusive and unique look to the range and provide extra equipment over and above the existing top-of-range versions. The SE Summit range is available with the same powertrain line-up as the other Stepway versions and in five powertrain options for Duster.

New Sandero Stepway and New Logan MCV Stepway

The SE Summit versions of the New Sandero Stepway and New Logan MCV Stepway stand out thanks to an exclusive new metallic colour, Nordic Grey. The Sandero Stepway Summit Special Edition is also available in Magma Orange. These new colours are complemented by 16-inch Dark Metal flex-wheels.

Inside the cabin, the Summit Special Editions boast unique upholstery; the seats are recognisable thanks to their Burnt Orange piping and top-stitching, plus the 'Stepway' logo embroidered into the fabric in the same colour. The same Burnt Orange detailing is throughout the cabin, including on the centre console cover and air vent surrounds.

SE Summit for the Stepway models are based on Lauréate trim, and add a rear parking camera and a front central armrest to the equipment list which already includes air conditioning, Media Nav Evolution multimedia system with satellite navigation, DAB Radio and Bluetooth connectivity, rear parking sensors, cruise control and speed limiter.

The Stepway SE Summit versions are priced from £10,995 for New Sandero Stepway £12,295 for New Logan MCV Stepway, representing an uplift of £800 compared to the equivalent Lauréate which includes the exclusive metallic paint and extra equipment.

The New Sandero Stepway range is available from £8,995 on-the-road and the New Logan MCV Stepway range is available from £11,495 on-the-road.

Duster

The Duster SE Summit, based on the top-of-the-range Duster Prestige, offers exclusive new Nordic Grey metallic paint and 16-inch diamond-cut black 'Cyclades' alloy wheels. The SE Summit also adds a body kit consisting of wheel-larch guards and protective side mouldings, enhancing the rugged exterior of the Duster.

Inside, the seats feature Burnt Orange piping and top-stitching, with the name 'Duster' embroidered into the fabric. The air vent surrounds are highlighted in Burnt Orange, and the carpet mats are finished with matching top-stitching.

This is on top of the high amount of equipment that comes as standard on Prestige trim such as a rear parking camera, MediaNav touchscreen navigation with satellite navigation, DAB radio and SIRI 'Eyes Free' and electric front and rear windows as standard.

The Duster SE Summit is priced from £15,195 – £1,000 above the equivalent Prestige model which includes exclusive metallic paint and rugged new exterior protection.

Whilst the Summit Special Edition sits atop the New Duster line-up, the range starts from just £9,495 on-the-road.

All versions provide the peace of mind of Dacia's three year / 60,000 mile warranty and assistance package. The car is protected by Dacia for the first three years or 60,000 miles. There is also a two-year paint warranty and six years' cover against corrosion.

Servicing is required once a year or every 12,000 miles.

Jeep announces new limited edition Wrangler Night Eagle

JEEP is expanding its Wrangler range of 4x4 vehicles with the introduction of a stunning limited edition, the Night Eagle.

Revealed at this year's Geneva Motor Show, the Jeep Wrangler Night Eagle comes in a choice of striking colours with exclusive decals, and provides a unique style, premium equipment levels and, of course, Jeep's legendary off-road capability.

Just 66 examples of this special new arrival are bound for the UK – all fitted with Jeep's 2.8-litre CRD 200hp turbo diesel engine paired to a five speed automatic gearbox. The engine gives the car a 0-62mph time of 10.7 seconds and a top speed of 107mph. The Euro 6 unit can return a combined 31.4mpg and has a 235g/km CO2 figure.

Legendary Wrangler capability is achieved through the standard Command-Trac part-time, two-speed transfer case with a low-range gear ratio.

Finished in unique Xtreme Purple, Alpine White or Solid Black paint the Night Eagle receives distinctive decals on the bonnet and rear quarter panels, 18-inch mid-gloss black wheels, body-colour grille, mid-gloss black colour accents, headlamp rings and Jeep badge, body colour dual top, black fuel filler door, deep tint sunscreen glass and hard spare tyre cover.

Inside, the new Night Eagle features standard black McKinley leather seats with black sport mesh fabric inserts and a leather-wrapped steering wheel with Diesel Gray accent stitching. A black vinyl-wrapped console lid and front door armrest with Diesel Gray accent stitching, Piano Black grab handle and vent ring bezels, and All-Weather slush mats complete the distinctive interior to this special edition model.

The full standard equipment creates a comfortable, high-tech driving environment which includes the nine-speaker Alpine Premium Audio System with subwoofer and the Uconnect Navigation system with CD/DVD/MP3, 6.5-inches touchscreen, AUX and USB ports.

The new Jeep Wrangler Night Eagle will cost £39,810 OTR when it goes on sale in the UK this week.

SEAT announces UK pricing and specification for new Ateca FR

UNVEILED this week at the Automobile Barcelona show, SEAT UK is now whetting British customers' appetites with details of specifications and pricing for the sporty FR addition to its Ateca SUV range.

SEAT's first SUV has already proved a huge hit, both with UK media and in the marketplace, its sales performance since launch last September helping the brand soar to record heights. The new FR will extend its appeal further with an injection of the sporty style and performance that are at the heart of the Barcelona-based brand.

There is a choice of four powerful and efficient engines – two petrol and two diesel, all of them turbocharged. Entry point is the 1.4 Eco TSI 150 PS, available with six-speed manual or DSG-auto transmission. Well worthy of the FR badge, it takes Ateca from rest to 62 mph in just 8.5 seconds and achieve a 125 mph top speed (manual version). Conversely, its official combined fuel economy and emissions figures are impressive at 52.3 mpg and 123 g/km. The brand new 2.0 TSI 190 PS, debuting in Ateca, is offered exclusively with 4Drive all-wheel drive and DSG transmission. Its statistics are 40.4 mpg combined fuel economy and 0-62mph in just 7.9 seconds.

The 2.0 TDI 150 PS also comes with 4Drive for added traction, posting benchmarks of 0-62 mph in nine seconds exactly and 122 mph maximum, with 55.4 mpg average fuel economy and CO2 emissions at 129 g/km.

Topping out the powertrain options is the 2.0 TDI 190 PS with 4Drive and seven-speed DSG transmission. It harnesses that horsepower to carve a second off the 0-62mph sprint (7.5 seconds), with top speed rising to 132 mph. Being a SEAT engine, maybe it's no surprise that it has only a modest thirst for fuel – an official 53.3 mpg average, with CO2 at 135 g/km.

■ SEAT Ateca FR

Styling and equipment

The Ateca's cool styling gains a number of features that declare its FR designation, including a high-gloss black front grille, aluminium roof rails, window frames and lower door trim, chrome double tailpipes, body colour wheel arch surrounds, side skirts and a roof spoiler. It rides on 18-inch "Performance" alloys, or optional 19-inch "Exclusive" rims with a machined finish.

The FR specification need only be the start of the story, with a wealth of options available for customers to equip their Ateca to the max. The choice includes advanced driving, convenience and winter packs, a panoramic sunroof, Connectivity Hub with wireless phone charger, Park Assist and an even more sophisticated navigation package with dynamic route guidance.

The new SEAT Ateca FR will be available to order from 3 July 2017, with first deliveries to UK customers expected from October.

On-the-road prices are as follows:-

1.4 Eco TSI 150 PS (manual) - £24,960

Pymore heading for Premier debut

Impressive last day wins for Lyme Regis Rovers and Uplyme Reserves

PERRY STREET LEAGUE

Saturday, May 13th

DIVISION ONE

Pymore 8

South Petherton Reserves 2
HAT TRICKS from Tim Hussey and Mick Gilmore helped Pymore duly secure a place in the Premier Division for the first time in their history.

Hussey, returning from an ankle injury, opened the scoring after 29 seconds after pouncing on poor back pass and rounding the keeper.

Richard Vine's half volley made it 2-0 before Antony Dexter snatched one back for the Magpies. But Liam Proctor ended any potential wobbles with Pymore's third before half time.

The second half was one-way traffic. Hussey scored twice more while Gilmore waded in with his first hat trick for the club. Peth completed the scoring through Scott Jackson penalty.

After the game Pymore assistant player-manager Matt Tither said: "At the start of the season we went to Dowlish for a cup match with only nine players, but still won a penalty shoot-out after 120 minutes - this showed the character of the team."

"We only retained half a dozen or so players from last season but the lads who have come in; Jamie gay, Jed Holt, Rich Legg, Richard Vine, Mick Gilmore, Ryan gay, Dan Coles, Dan Canning, Doug Lamb and Andrew McCleary have all fitted in well and done us proud.

"We have a great bunch of players and are a close knit squad who enjoyed themselves week in week out. The Premier Division will be tough but we will do our best."

DIVISION THREE

Forton Rangers Reserves 3

Uplyme Reserves 4

THE DIVISION Three championship trophy is heading to Misterton Reserves' Unity Lane after Uplyme Reserves came from behind to deny hosts Forton Reserves the silverware.

The visiting Swallows opened the scoring on the quarter hour when Ryan Smith escaped his marker and fired home.

Uplyme had a let off when a cross rebounded back off the post into the arms of a grateful keeper Marcus Bearpark.

It should have been 2-0 soon after. Alex Jones was felled in the box but James Souter-Phillips' spot kick struck the crossbar, and to rub salt into the wounds Forton equalised through Sam Hall before half time.

They took the lead after the interval when the ball was scrambled home by Steve Baker after a melee. But Jamie Murray's in-swinging corner was volleyed home at the back stick by Frank Harris to level things up at 2-2.

Uplyme were on top in the final 15 minutes and deservedly went in front through top scorer Jonnie Harris' 29th goal of the season after good work from Souter-Phillips who then set up Alex Jones to make it 4-2.

Forton did pull one back though a late Jack Alford penalty but it was too little too late to the delight of the watching Misterton Reserves players.

Lyme Rovers 6 Ilminster A 0

LYME Regis Rovers completed a fine season with a classy performance in the Davey Fort sunshine that secured a very creditable fifth place finish.

After an even opening 20 minutes the chances began to come for Lyme. Rhys Evans clipped a shot from the edge of the area that struck the crossbar.

Moments later Finlay McLean smacked an angled drive that Blues' keeper Danny Whaites did well to parry away at his near post.

Then Pete Peacock, who had an afternoon to forget in front of goal, did well to manoeuvre a yard of space but blazed his shot over the bar.

At the other end an Ilminster free kick looked destined for the top corner only for Lyme keeper Jim Larcombe to tip the ball onto the top of the bar and away for a corner.

Larcombe appeared in almost every position for the Rovers this season and his efforts were recognised when he received Terry White's Manager's Player award at the club's annual presentation night the previous evening.

The woodwork was tested again a minute before the break when Lyme midfielder Matt Preece let fly with a 25-yard scorcher that bounced down onto the goal line off the underside of the bar.

The opening goal arrived five minutes after the interval when Man-of-the-Match Jonny Day let fly with a low swerving shot that foxed Whaites.

The lead with double two minutes later when Whaites had no chance as one of his defenders lost his bearings and nodded into his own net.

The goal of the game came in the 66th minute when Day stayed calm under a dropping ball and thumped home a low volley that fizzed into the bottom corner - a fitting way to register the team's 100th goal of the season.

Number four came when Evans was tripped out by the corner flag and then curled over the free kick to the far post where it was bundled home by Players' Player of the Season Robbie Fowler.

Ilminster squandered a couple of clear cut chances on the break-away, but keeper Larcombe wasn't to be denied a clean sheet and did well with a brave stop in a one-on-one chance.

Goal number five arrived 10 minutes from time when Peacock rediscovered his shooting boots and finished well for his 37th goal of the season. The scoring was completed with a deflected Evans effort near the full time whistle.

For a good cause

LYME Regis footballer Chris Herbst is attempting the three peak challenge. Scotland (Ben Nevis), England (Scafell Pike) and Wales (Snowdon), within 24 hours.

Herbst said: "The total distance covered is approximately 26 miles, with an ascent of 3000m."

"I'm doing this to raise money for the Weldmar Hospicecare, this charity is very close to my heart because my dad spent some of his last days there."

The care and attention he received there was unbelievable and they really did care about him. I'd like to raise money to help others receive the care that my dad did."

BRUCE Maltby led the way with the willow for Uplyme & Lyme Regis Cricket club last weekend.

Uptottery 2nds 184 for 3 beat Uplyme & Lyme Regis 2nds 179 for 7 by seven wickets

BUT the hard-hitting middle order batsman's magnificent 106 failed to save the club's 2nd XI from a seven defeat in the Devon League C Division East 2nd XI match at Uptottery.

Maltby, who came to the crease with his side struggling at 11 for 2, was watchful to begin with taking 13 balls to get off the mark. But once his eye was in he was particularly brutal against the bowling of Stevens who he struck for nine sixes.

Maltby eventually fell with the score at 175 for 6 having brought up his ton off 96 deliveries.

Earlier, skipper Dave Matthews continued his fine start to the season with a useful 34 as the visitors posted 179 for 7 from their allocated 45 overs.

In reply, a fine opening burst from Gabriel Maltby who had 2 for 2 after his first four overs had the hosts in trouble at 18 for 2.

But 35 from Peter John Kaal steadied the ship and the Uplyme had no answer to an unbroken fourth wicket stand of 89 between A.Pulman (69*) and J.Kennard (47*) as Uptottery reached their target in the 28th over.

Uplyme & Lyme Regis 90 lost to Cullompton 221 for 8 by 131 runs

A HORRENDOUS batting collapse saw Uplyme & Lyme Regis 1st XI well beaten in their second match of the season.

Wellman and Gary Anderson had taken the score to 19 before both were trapped in front by seamer Kav Dias and the home hopes rapidly crumbled as they were shot out for 90 in the 23rd over with Dias finishing with an impressive 5 for 23 from his nine overs.

For the second week in succession Rhys Davies, coming in at number eight, top-scored for Uplyme with 21 as he put on 31 for the seventh wicket with skipper James Whetlor (16) in a rare highlight.

Earlier, Dias (38) and fellow opener Jarvis (52) got the visitors off to flyer with 72 after being inserted. Davies (3 for 46) had most success with the ball but the Cully total of 221 for 8 was to prove far too much for the hosts.

WITH STUART BROOM

Premier League Sherborne (16) 103 beat Dorchester (8) 94 by 9 runs

ONLY Sherborne opener Luke Hancock (32) showed much form with the bat as Dorchester's Dan Belt claimed 5-26. Simon Mitchem backed him up with 3-40 as they dismissed their hosts for 103 all out.

It seemed plain sailing for the county town side on a good wicket, but they fared no better with Mitchem (21) top scorer, and they fell nine runs short.

Martinstown (20) 113-3 beat Shroton (2) 112 all out by 7 wickets

MARTINSTOWN bounced back after defeat at Dorchester with a comprehensive victory over promoted Shroton.

Martinstown's opening bowlers Matt Camp (2-26) and Mike Kennedy-Barnard (3-28) claimed a wicket each to leave the visitors 17-2, but Matthew Hewitt (36) and skipper Marc Doble (17) held them off before Fraser Hill (3-26 from 10) them helped dismiss them for 112.

Martinstown never appeared in trouble in reply as Ed Nichols (30) and Sean Williams (27) opened with a stand of 43, before Lee House (27*) saw them home with 25 overs to spare.

County Division 1 Christchurch (10) 148 lost to Cattistock (18) 151 by 3 runs CATTISTOCK sit second in Division 1 after an exciting victory over Christchurch.

Christchurch looked odds on favourites at 143-5 needing nine for victory and six overs to get them, but in a remarkable finish Cattistock claimed the last five wickets for just five runs in 3.2 overs.

Having been put in, Cattistock were soon in trouble at 47-3. Only Billy Walbridge (30) and Sam Baker (27) showed much resistance, and only the addition of 45 extras saw them reach a modest total of 151.

Christchurch didn't fare any better as Brad Damen (2-22) and Sam Baker (1-28) reduced them to 31-3.

However some decent middle order scores only interrupted by Jon Legg (2-15) saw the hosts move to within eight of victory.

It was the return of Martin Langford (3-40) that sparked the remarkable turnaround as he claimed 3-3 from his two overs, and with Walbridge (2-22) weighing in with 2-2 from his last eight balls, victory was snatched from the jaws of defeat.

Weymouth (19) 152-1 beat

Hamworthy Rec (3) 151-8 by 9 wickets
Asked to field, the nagging accuracy of opening bowlers Neil Walton and Graham Puckett, saw the visitors limp to 35-1 after 22 overs.

This signalled a change of attitude and Martin Wood (34) and captain Matt Avery (29 off 18 balls) accelerated the score to 98 before skipper Simon Browne (4-28) broke the partnership. Despite a cameo from Julian Lockett (31) the Hamworthy innings stuttered to 101-8.

Debutant Jack Sapworth (1-22) making his best captured the important wicket of Avery, receiving praise from his captain for his all round work in the field.

Tom England (68*) and Kieron Womble (46*) produced an unbeaten second wicket stand to see Weymouth home comfortably.

County Division 2 Witchampton (4) 98 lost to Portland Red Triangle (16) 100-8 by 2 wickets

Portland Red Triangle won a low scoring game thanks to an unbeaten ninth wicket stand between father and son Simon (7*) and Matthew Barrett (14*). Needing 20 for victory they batted sensibly to ensure victory with 21 balls to spare.

Joe Adkins (15) had shown maturity above his 16 years earlier to hold the innings together with only Simon Proffitt (11) and Matt Randall (11) also reaching double figures.

Rob Townley, promoted from the seconds, showed what he could do as he took 4-28 as PRT dismissed the hosts for 98. He was well supported by Matt Barrett (2-11 from 9) and Rich Samuel (2-42).

County Division 3 Beaminster (5) 174 lost to Kingston Lacy (20) 178-4 by 6 wickets

DALE Coghlan was the hero for Kingston Lacy with 92 not out to guide his team home by four wickets.

Beaminster got off to a poor start losing

Lewis Keenan without scoring, and despite opener Chris Park (39) and useful contributions from Ali Crawford (24), Simon Kones (26) and Dan Spiller (20) failed to build a substantial toylard were bowled out for 174.

Coghlan dominated Lacy's reply to win the game with 10 balls remaining. Crawford (2-41) bagged a brace, both as a result of smart catches from keeper Leo Gurd.

Hamworthy Rec 2nd (8) 216 lost to Charlton Down (20) 252-7 by 36 runs

CHARLTON Down have made a great start to their Division Three campaign making it two wins from two.

Matt Stevens starred with bat and ball scoring 77 and taking 2-28 and James Pretty was a game changer taking 5-27 and also scoring 32 runs.

Jae Miller (33) and Pretty (32) added 77 in only 13 overs. When Sam Roles (14) and Nick Voss (29) followed soon after with the score on 137-4 in the 27th over, the innings could have gone either way.

However, Matt and Dan Stevens (14) added a match winning partnership of 85 and Javed Gill added 30 more quick runs and leave Charlton Down on 252-7 after 45 overs.

Dan Stevens (2-34) accounted for Cornwall's Over 50s opening batsman Steve Jenkin (2) and Nick Berry (10), before brother Matt (2-28) bowled the dangerous Donkin (32) with the score on 45-3.

The partnership between Gordon Fraser (62) and Tim Martin (24) looked as though the game was tilting towards Hamworthy at 121-3, But Gill (1-41) and James Pretty (5-27) turned the match back Charlton Down's way. Despite Bob Holness (27) and Tom Meaton (13) adding a quickfire 43, Pretty and the returning Matt Stevens ensured the run chase came up 36 runs short.

Dorchester 2nd (20) 155-2 beat Dorset Indian Tigers (4) 154 by 8 wickets

DORCHESTER recorded their first win of the season against a strong Dorset Indian Tigers.

The Tigers were soon in trouble from the nagging accuracy of Mike Peak (2-40) and Matt Porter (2-16 from 7). With young Ollie Osbourne also chipping in with a wicket (1-33), the Tigers were five down for less than 50.

Only Gunaseelan Sithambaram (35) and Tyson Luis (52) showed resistance.

However Shaun Little (3-19) returning from injury, and Joe Power (2-39) also produced excellent spells to dismiss the visitors for 154.

Little (43) and Nick Roe (47) produced a solid base in reply, before Peak (32*) ensured the victory with eight overs to spare.

County Division 4 Abbotsbury (6) 184-5 lost to Wareham (17) 187-2 by 8 wickets ABBOTSBURY'S disappointing start to the season continued as they were well beaten by Wareham.

Swan's skipper Simon Allen opted to bat first. In the opening overs, Simon Pengelly and Frank Pittman both presented catching chances which were squandered by the Wareham fielders and after these early reprieves both batsmen settled into their innings, though with a slow outfield run scoring remained at a modest rate.

However, by the time Pittman (38) fell lbw to Matt Truman in the 25th over a decent platform of 104 had been laid.

Pengelly (98) batted excellently but just missed out on a ton as his off stump was knocked back. With overs running out three wickets fell to Truman (5-39).

Defending 184, the Swans were hoping for early wickets with Grafton Straker (0-35) and Jay Lintern (0-53) leading the attack for the home side.

However, the Wareham openers batsmen Harry Wright and Ashley Hayes batted with composure, with Hayes regularly finding the boundary.

The breakthrough eventually arrived in the 32nd over when Chas Duerdorth (1-29) bowled Wright (55) but Hayes (113) completed a century to bring victory within sight.

Simon Pengelly (1-45) finally accounted for the century but there was to be no further joy for the Swans as Matt Truman (5) and Martin Upshall (12) guided Wareham home for a straightforward win.

Chalke Valley (6) 171-8 lost to Puddletown (19) 216-5 by 45 runs

A fine all round display saw Puddletown secure their second win of the new season in the Wiltshire countryside.

The hosts won the toss and asked Puddletown to bat first, and the visitors' innings got off to a poor start when Tim Orford (2) was run out in the first over.

Adam Barrett then joined Lucas Allen and the pair put on 46 valuable runs before Barrett was bowled by Goodchild. Adam Weir came and went after a brief stay, and Mike Hoffman, together with Allen, took the score to 137 before he was dismissed for a fine 42.

Mike Crabb was next in to join Allen, who was progressing steadily towards his century, and this pair realised 73 runs before Crabb was run out, with Allen on 99, but Dec Chubb came in to ensure that Allen reached three figures, and remain unbeaten on 101 when the innings closed at 216-5.

The home side's innings also got off to a poor start with Mercer bowled by David Morris with just two on the board, and two more wickets fell, with Goodchild, who had opened the innings with Mercer, trying to hold things together.

The opener then fell with the score on 81-4, having made a fine 57, and although Dowling and Bundy made useful contributions of 32 and 23* respectively, the home side's innings petered out on 171-8.

County Division Five Marnhull 2nd (5) 158-8 lost to Martin- stown 2nd (19) 161-2 by 8 wickets MARTINSTOWN produced an excellent victory against a strong Marnhull side.

Chris Ralph and Barry Lewis put on 70 for the first wicket, and a big total looked likely, but excellent bowling saw them restrict the hosts to 158-8.

Charlie Durrant, a year older looks a great prospect as his medium swing bowling claimed 3-24 from 8 overs, and he was well supported by Matt Rimmer (2-24), Sam Pugh (2-8) and Grant Neven (1-23).

Despite losing Adam Kepple (3) early on, another youngster William Maltby carried his bat for 64 not out and in doing so recorded his first maiden half-century.

He received great support from Finlay Williams (38) and Rimmer (19no) as the visitors won with almost ten overs to spare.

Portland Red Triangle 2nd (20) 190 beat Witchampton 2nd (9) 159 by 31 runs

THIS game could have gone either way, but a superb 92 from Tim Porshaw held the PRT innings together as they set a target of 191.

However, it looked like a lost cause perhaps as Witchampton cruised to 100-1.

But the dismissal of Paul Allaway who was caught and bowled by Nathan Cornish (1-29) and Luke Smith, caught by captain George Linley-Munro off Jack Marsh (1-28), saw the innings unravel.

In stepped Tony Morris with 4-10 from seven overs and with Tom Dalkins nabbing 2-22 they swept home by 31 runs.

County Division Six Bradford Abbas Sports 2nd (3) 69 lost to Symene (18) 143-7 by 74 runs SYMENE SIT top Division 6 after their second win of the season, this time easily beating Bradford Abba, although they got off to a bad start with Nick Skyrme (0) and Jamie Dolman (1) both out with the score on 5-2.

It was a superb maiden half-century from George Wyrill (51) that changed the game. He was ably supported by Charlie Parkman (36) and saw Symene reach 143-7.

In reply Bradford Abbas found themselves in trouble as Graham Bartlett (2-6 from 4) and Dan White (2-13) reduced them to 20-4.

Only two batsmen reached double figures and when Parkman (3-2) was thrown the ball he finished them off with a hat trick.

Readers Mid-Wessex League Division One Broadwindsor (8) 140 lost to Cranmore (20) 280 by 140 runs

ONE man destroyed any chance of victory for Broadwindsor as prolific runmaker Mike Pang made them pay for dropping him when on 30 as he went on to plaster the ball all over the field in a magnificent innings of 183.

Despite Mike Runyard taking 4-24 in his eight overs Cranmore amassed 280 all out.

Beaminster could only muster 140 in reply with Ross Baker striking an elegant 67 supported by Adrian Waddington (25).

Marnhull 3 Bridport A 5
Dorset League Division Four

BRIDPORT A produced a second half display which highlighted why they won Dorset Division Four this season when, after making three uncharacteristic first half mistakes, they stormed back to beat Marnhull.

On a small pitch and with the wind at their backs Marnhull took the lead from a poorly defended corner, before Bridport woke and took control. They equalised following a brilliant run and finish from Rhys Hayter who slotted the ball home for the Bees 100th goal of the campaign.

Bridport continued to squander chances and found themselves behind from a rare mistake by keeper Jordon Scadding who failed to hold a free kick. They then conceded a third through poor marking.

But Bridport produced a terrific second half display with Rhys Hughes-Williams up front and Josh Hunter adding bite in the middle alongside Sam Handyside, they took complete control.

Hunter, turning on the edge of the box, fired home a powerful shot home before James Legg equalised.

Brandon Scadding rocked the crossbar before finding the net to give Bridport the lead and Hunter added his 24th of the season in just eight games.

Full sails enjoyed

A GOOD turnout of 28 boats took to the water to make the most of the long-awaited ideal conditions on Sunday morning.

A steady SW breeze, F3 for the first race of the Early Summer Series, had increased to F5 with steep, deeper waves by the third, giving changing conditions over the three different courses.

Race officer Simon Clark, a keen sailor and kite surfer, was kept busy with three classes to start and commented on the perseverance of the five young Optimist competitors, two of whom finished all three of their races even as the seas built.

Consistent overall among the dinghies were top helms Jon Turner and Chris Turner, while five chose not to continue after one race and two more returned to shore before the third. Phantoms and Merlins are leading the series, with K1s in contention.

Among the three Cruisers that competed Rob and Margaret Wiscombe gained two first places. The safety boat, helmed by Findlay Fuller, was kept occupied, as was the OppieRib. Meanwhile, Fraser Earle and Simon Boyle took Rescue 1 to Beer to support the safety team at Beer SC at their Laser Masters Open meeting.

Racing continues on Wednesday evenings as well as Sundays, with separate series and training three times each week.

Results Early Spring Series (after three races) 1st Jon Turner & Katie Frost, Merlin (2,2,1), 2nd Chris Turner, Phantom (1,4,2), 3rd Mike & Jane Calvert, Merlin (6,1,4), 4th Hugh Duncan, K1 (3,8,6)

Cruisers: 1st Rob & Margaret Wiscombe (1,1), 2nd Rob & Sharyn Walker (2,2), 3rd Simon Williams (-, 3)

Optimists - Race 11: 1st Archie Melville, 2nd Ed Stubbs, 3rd Raff Porter. Race 12: 1st Archie Melville, 2nd Ed Stubbs.

IT was the same again at the top of both men's and ladies Bridport & District Darts League this season's as both defending champions retained their titles.

With Tender Trap having disbanded after Anchor Aces broke their 10 year reign last year, The Salwayash-based team once again took the Ladies Division One title by eight points from Arrows Awry, together with the Ladies Four Cup, Ladies Charles Cup, Ladies Beer Cup, whilst their captain Heather Scadding won the Ladies' Highest Game Shot with a 141 finish.

Lyme Golf

Medal for boss Moss

WITH some challenging pin positions it required some good golf to break par in the May Medal.

The top three in Division One did as Geoff Moss started off his round in sparkling form as after five holes his 12 handicap was being severely threatened as he was two under gross. In the end his nett 68 was the best score of the day.

Craig McGown also started very well with a smattering of birdies including one on the stroke index one and had to settle for second place with nett 69 while scratch handicapper Scott Love rallied well at the end to come in with an under par 70.

Martin Dixon held his nerve as he recorded a superb nett two under par 69 to clinch top spot, the only player to better par in Division two.

Owen Bosence and Simon Leech had a fierce battle for second place but Bosence's better back nine just took silver.

The seniors played their May Medal in similarly testing conditions with Division One belonging to Robert Laverton as his three nett birdies on the front nine, and steady play secured the best score of the day with 39 points.

John Coley birdied two of the par fives in each nine scoring a brilliant 37 points for second while Geoff Richmond had a consistent round to record third with 36 points.

Division Two was very competitive as David Hay steadied himself for two excellent halves and won with 38 points.

Andrew Thomas had a good front nine which ensured he broke nett par to take second spot from Alan Woodbridge who finished strongly and scored 36 points.

Meanwhile, Lyme Regis hosted the Dorset Ladies Seniors' Championship and several members took part, and the ladies also staged an open competition, both were very well supported as everyone enjoyed a testing course in excellent conditions.

Lyme look to smuggle cup over border

LONG serving Lyme Regis Reserves manager Gerard Hitchcock will be missing from the dug out when his charges run out at Elmore's Horsdon Park Ground against North Tawton in the Football Express Cup Final on Saturday afternoon.

County finals aside, this is probably the team's biggest ever match but Hitchcock will miss the game as he will be away on holiday.

"It's a shame, but I'm sure the players will be organised and ready," said Hitchcock who confirmed that Tim Edwards and Rob Thom will join assistant manager Mark Bevis in running the team and all have plenty of experience of big finals.

sion Six as runners-up, come into the game as slight underdogs against a North Tawton side who finished in midtable in the D&E Division Five and won three of their last four matches.

Lyme's end of season form was very impressive with six wins from eight outings.

During that time striker Dec Ellis looked razor sharp and the 23-goal top-scorer could be crucial to the team's attacking intent.

Hitchcock, who has lost some of his intended squad due to ineligibility while skipper Alex Rowe is unavailable, has selected the following 18; Ryan Turner, Ally Rattenbury, Wallace Blackmore, Mark Batey, Cam Fowler, Luke Clifton, Steve Batey, Julien Simier, Ryan Fifer, Sam Bevis, Dec Ellis, Tim Edwards, Jonny Day, Rhys Evans, Stefan Taylor, Robbie Fowler, Will Meech, Ryan King.

The Football Express Cup has a long history and was first competed for in 1909 when Bovey St Johns beat St Leonards Exeter 2-0 in the final at Dawlish. In 1949 the Great Western Railway won the cup for the third time and were given the old trophy.

The new one has rarely been won by teams from this area. Colyton won it twice 1958 and 1965, Seaton in 1973, the last 'local' team to lift it was the now defunct Kilmington in 1989.

Postcode for the Elmore FC Ground is EX16 4DB
